

(a) Baseline:
log a use

The interface shows the 'EcoTracker' logo and 'Day 1 of your study'. Below a language selector (EN, DE), the section 'LOG YOUR APPLIANCE USAGE' contains three items: Dishwasher, Washing Machine, and Phone Charging. Each item has a green 'Start Now' button and a clock icon.

(b) Nudge phase:
great window

The interface shows a 'GREEN SCORE' of 11. A green message box states: 'It's currently in today's great window (10:00-17:00), when solar generation is typically highest. Using flexible appliances now is a great time for green energy.' Below this is a 'Why timing matters' link and a 'YOUR APPLIANCES' section with buttons for 'Dishwasher' and 'Washing Machine'.

(c) Nudge phase:
ok window

The interface shows a 'GREEN SCORE' of 11. A yellow message box states: 'It's currently in an "ok" window – not today's daily peak (10:00-17:00), but still a reasonable time to use flexible appliances.' Below this is a 'Why timing matters' link and a 'YOUR APPLIANCES' section with buttons for 'Dishwasher' and 'Washing Machine'.

(d) Bad window:
use anyway or wait

The interface shows a 'GREEN SCORE' of 0. A grey message box states: 'It's currently outside today's daytime windows, when the grid typically relies more on non-renewable sources. Waiting about 9h, until the next great window, could mean cleaner electricity for flexible appliances.' Below this is a 'Why timing matters' link and a 'YOUR APPLIANCES' section. The Dishwasher button is highlighted with a yellow box containing the text: 'Not the best time right now. Waiting about 9h could mean more green energy for your Dishwasher. Use it now anyway, or wait?' with 'Use anyway' and 'I'll wait' options.

(e) Score feedback
after "use anyway"

The interface shows a 'GREEN SCORE' of -3. A grey message box states: 'It's currently outside today's daytime windows, when the grid typically relies more on non-renewable sources. Waiting about 9h, until the next great window, could mean cleaner electricity for flexible appliances.' Below this is a 'Why timing matters' link and a 'YOUR APPLIANCES' section with buttons for 'Dishwasher' and 'Washing Machine'. The Dishwasher button is highlighted with a yellow box containing the text: 'Noted for your Dishwasher – maybe try for a greener window next time.'
